Dear Mr. Reed,

I wish to voice my support for consideration of the request by the Hacienda Homeowners Association to have the Hacienda area removed from the High Priority list. As a microbiologist, I completely agree that the definition of "natural background" is inappropriate for establishing water quality of a residential area. Information on PIB from samples collected in high and low-resident populated areas would need to be more appropriate if the goal is to attribute PIB to residents of a specific region of the watershed. Additionally, a method to measure outcomes associated with implemented changes in water handling should be established prior to requiring such drastic measures.

Thank you for your consideration on this matter.

Sincerely,
Kris Clothier DVM PhD
