

The largest water conservation / creation effort I have done in almost 4 decades involves Rainwater harvesting. This is not only math based but sustainable and good commerce. 623 gallons, per inch of rain per 1,000 sq. ft. This as well is subtracted from runoff. That is double dipping. Free water, less storm run off, what more could we want?

Greg Chick, LEED AP, CWM, ARCSA AP
greg@ramonasplumber.com

